

Inquiry needed

Enough — it's long past time the activities of the WDC were investigated. It's time to call for an independent commission to undertake an inquiry into the processes, financial dealings, affiliations and workings of the WDC. We, the ratepayers, are being insulted continually by various councillors who seem to think that Whangarei is their personal, little fiefdom to do with as they wish. Public consultation on a shared vision for Whangarei is mere tokenism.

We are inflicted with the greedy, banal aspirations of an unimaginative, not very bright few. It's definitely time they were investigated and their activities stopped so we can progress with enhancing this lovely space to being a pleasure for locals and visitors alike.
