

Out of sight

Isopo Samu asks the question: "Where have all the so-called self-proclaimed council watchers gone?"

My question is: "Where have all the mayoral candidates gone?" (Mr Samu being one of these).

All except one, Warren Slater, seem to have disappeared off the planet.

All the election promises of dedication and genuine interest in the running of our fair city, seem to be of little concern once the battle was lost.

As one of the "council watchers", I assure Mr Samu we have not all gone. I queried the figures council released on the Hundertwasser project after I found $10,000 not accounted for in the figures.

Yes. Councillor Edwards is doing a fine job for the ratepayers in Whangarei and, like yourself, I hope he continues to stay true to his beliefs, which I am sure he will.

If Mr Samu wants to know what goes on at the council meetings I would suggest he goes to www.warrenslater.co.nz. Here he will find that this mayoral candidate has not wavered in his beliefs.
