

Puppets

Whangarei
Leader 7 Sept 2010

Who is behind the scenes pushing the buttons? Is it big business who want the puppet?

That seems to be the truth of the matter, Mr Cutforth has admitted that much, so he is already in debt to his sponsors.

How can John Bain promise any candidate a position on council?

Surely that is in the hands of the electorate.

These councils are in need of a drastic shake-up, these sitting councillors – some of them in the job a long time – who have been spending ratepayers money on dreams need to be removed.

All we have to show for their combined wisdom is massive debt. It's no joke to read we are $130 million in debt. I suggest this is not the full truth, it is much more.

So much for the integrity of these people – they all share the responsibility of the mess this district is in.

Democracy?

In October voters, you have the chance to change the culture pervading within our district.

Remember it's you who pays the bills at the end of the day.
